Why the three “e”s

We serve clients through three interconnected components – enterprise, executives and employees – which, when synchronized, allow clients to be strategic, focused and confident of a secure future.

Entrepreneurial organizations have unique needs. There is a demand to make every resource generate maximum return on investment. At the same time, benefit programs have become more costly and complex, challenging the financial future of the organization and those within it.

Enterprise

Strategic resource allocation keeps your focus on core competencies

Executive

Secure ownership ensures the continued success of the company

Employees

Comprehensive benefits help recruit and retain your human capital

We navigate clients through the range of options to create solutions that help achieve the goals of the enterprise.

Tailored solutions

We start by looking at your company's values, growth phase and overall business objectives. Our solutions harness the power of technology, but retain the human touch because we are passionate about the people we serve.

Our dedicated team becomes an extension of your organization. We provide ongoing outsideinsight™ on corporate ownership and executive compensation, HR compliance and benefits support. We work directly with your employees to provide guidance with their 401(k) and insurance plans. With our unique Client Service Protocol,™ we take you through a structured process to ensure we assess, understand and meet all of your benefit needs:

Consultation A visionary look at your business helps you manage for today while planning for tomorrow.

Procurement Sophisticated modeling tools and affiliations give e3 the purchasing clout of a conglomerate.

Education Personalized counsel for executives, enterprise-wide advice for HR professionals and benefits education for employees.
